Tito es una tortuga alegre a quien le gusta jugar con sus amigos y comer hojas. Su vida es perfecta.

Un día, Tito encuentra una bolsa de galletas en la tierra. Le gustan las galletas mucho.

Tito come sus hojas y decide que le gustan las galletas más que las hojas. Busca más galletas.

En su camino, Tito encuentra otra caja de galletas de chocolate y las lleva a su casa. Tito continúa comiendo sólo galletas, entonces engorda poco a poco.

Durante su camino, Tito ve un caimán hambriento. Tito trata de escapar rápidamente, pero él ha engordado mucho y no puede correr. Por suerte, Tito encuentra un arbusto para ocultarse.

Mientras espera que el caimán se vaya, Tito se da cuenta de que él ha engordado mucho. Tito nota que su concha está apretada también.

Durante su camino a casa, Tito ve a sus amigos corriendo, jugando, y después comiendo hojas. Tito se da cuenta de que necesita cambiar su dieta para tener su vida de antes.

Cuando Tito vuelve a casa, él abandona las galletas y come hojas para la cena.

Después del cambio de dieta, Tito puede jugar con sus amigos otra vez. Comiendo sano y haciendo ejercicio, la concha de Tito le sienta bien otra vez.

Ahora Tito sólo come hojas y juega con sus amigos cada día. Su vida es perfecta otra vez, pero sólo come una galleta a la semana.

Tito is a happy turtle who likes to play with his friends and eat leaves. His life is perfect.

One day, Tito finds a bag of cookies on the ground. He likes them very much.

Tito eats his leaves and decides that he likes the cookies more than leaves. He looks for some more cookies.

On his walk, Tito finds a big case of chocolate cookies and brings them back home. He continues to only eat cookies for weeks, slowly getting fatter.

During his routine, he spots a hungry alligator. Tito tries to escape as fast as he can, but he has gained so much weight that he can't run. Luckily, Tito finds a bush to hide in.

As he waits for the alligator to leave, Tito realizes that he has gained a lot of weight. He also notices that his shell feels tighter on him.

On his way home, Tito sees his friends running and playing, then eating leaves. Tito realizes that he needs to change his diet to have his old life back.

When Tito gets home, he abandons the cookies and eats leaves for dinner instead.

After his change in diet, Tito is able to play with his friends again. With eating right and exercising, Tito's shell starts to feel normal again.

Tito only eats leaves now, and plays with his friends every day. His life is perfect again, only eating one cookie a week.
